WE haue also ordained by the aduice of our counsail that from hence forth shiriffs shal not be charged of any illues to be leuied, nor shall leuie any before they passe out of the Eschequer there to be declared by the extractes of ye Justices. And that in the estreates of Justices euery head shal be charged for illues forfaited like as of amerciaments, & if peraduenture any shiriffe wyl answere for the illues of any recognysour, pledge or mainparnour by him assigned and retourned into our Court, which at the tyme of ye retourne is not able to pay such illues or amerciaments the shirife shalbee charged & shal answer therfore in our eschequer. And let the shiriffs beware vnder pain of great forfaiture, that from hereforth they do make tayles of al such mony as they or their officers haue receiued by our commaundement. And that they do not returne any where, the names of any mainparnours, or suerties, surours, or any other, except such suerties, mainparnours or other, according to the tenour of our writs being directed to the shiriffes for the same cause, be lawfully and manifestly impanelled thereupon. And they shall not retourne the names of any free men as pledges, without ye they will plainely consent and agree to the same. And hereupon we haue enacted that at one time certain euery yere one Baron & one clerke of our saide eschequer shal be sent through out euery shere of England to inrolle the names of al such as haue paied that yere debts exacted of them by a greene ware. And the same baron and clerke shall peruse al such tailes and inrolle them. And shal heare and determine complaints made against shiriffs and their clerkes, & bailiffes that haue done contrary to ye premisses, and the offendours shalbe greeuously punished.

For as much as shyrifes and other heretofore, haue lett out by pleum common felons and openly defamed being taken and imprysoned for murder and felony, and such as be not replevysable, contrary to the fourme of our statut made at westm. of persõs replevisable, & not replevisable, wherby such trãsgressours not replevisable be lett out, & for to deliuer them deceiptfully before the comming of the Justices errant or

LOr doing suites vnto the courtes of great lordes, or of meaner persons from hence forth this order shalbee obserued, that none that is enfeffed by dede, from henceforth shall bee distrayned to doo such suyt in the Court of hys Lord, without hee bee specially bound thereto by ỳ fourme of his dede. Those onely being except, whose auncestours or they them selues, haue vsed to doo such suit before the first voiage of the said king Henry into Britaine, sithens which xxxiii. yeres and an halfe are passed vnto the tyme that these statutes were enacted. Likewise from henceforth none that is infeffed without dede from the time of the conquest, or any other auncient feffement, shalbee distrayned to do such suites, vnles ỳ he or hys auncestours vsed to doo it before the said voiage. And they that are infeffed by dede to do a certaine seruice, as for seruice of so many shillyngs by yere, to be acquited of al seruice frõhence forth shal not be bounden to such suites or other like, contrary vnto the fourme of their feffement. And if any inheritaunce (whereof but one suit is due) discend vnto many heirs as to parteners, who so that hath the eldest part of the inheritance shal doo that one suit for himselfe and his fellowes and the other others shalbee contributaries accordynge to the portyon for doinge such suit. And if many feffees bee seysed of an inheritaunce, (whereof but one suit is due) ỳ Lord of the fee shal haue but ỳ one suit and shal not exact of the said inheritaūce but that one sute, as hath ben vsed to be done before. And if shole tenures haue no warrat or meane whych ought to acquite them, that al the lettes according to their portion, shal be contributaryes for doing the suyt of them. And if yt chaunce that the lords of the fee do distraine their tenauntes for such sutes, contrary to this act, then at yᵉ instaūce of the tenauntes the lordes shalbe attached to appeare in the kinges court at a shoꝛt day, to make aunswer thereto, and shall haue but one essoine there (if they be within the realme). And immediately yᵉ beastes or other distresses taken by this detaynor, shalbe deliuered to the playntiffes, and to that tenaunte vntil yᵉ plee betwixt them bee determined. And if the lordes of the courtes, which make distresses come not at the day that they were attached, or abide not beyonde the day geuen to them by essoine: then the sheriffes shalbe commaunded to cause them to come at another day, at which day if they come not, then shal be commaunded to distraine them by al the goods and catelles, that they haue in the shyre so that the sheriffe shall aunswer to the king of the issues of the said inheritaūce. And that they haue their bodies before the iustices at a certaine day limited. So that if they come not at that day, the party plaintife shal go without day and his beastes or other distresses taken by that colour shal remaine detayned vntill the same lordes haue restored the same sute by awarde of the kinges court and in the meane time such distresses shal cease. Hauing to the lordes of the court their right to recouer their sutes in forme of law, when they will plead thereof. And when the lordes of the courtes come in to the court to see the playntiffes of such replaies, and be nonsuit thereupon, then by awarde of the kinges court yᵉ plaintiffes shall recouer against them the damages, that they haue sustained by occasion of the said detayner. Condition

COncerninge landes, that many tymes are geuen vpon condityon, that is to witte, where any geueth his land to any man and his wife, & to the heirs begotten of the bodies of ỹ same man and his wife, vñ such condytyon expressed, that if the same man and his wife die wtout heirs of their bodies betweene them begotten, the land so geuen should reuert to the geuer or hys heire. In case also where one geueth lands in free mariage, which gift hath a condition annexed, though it bee not expressed in the deede of gift: which is thus: What if the same husband and wife die without heire of their bodyes begotten, the land so geuen shal reuert to the geuer or his heire. In case also where one geueth land to an other, & to the heires of his body issuing: it seemed very hard, and yet seemeth vnto the geuers and their heires, that their will beinge expressed in the gyft, was not heretofore, nor yet is obserued. In all the cases aforesayed, after issue begotten and borne betweene them (to whom the landes were geuen vnder such condition) heretofore such feffees had power to alien the land so geuen, and to dysherit their issue contrary to the mindes of the geuers, & contrary to the fourme expressed in the gift. And further where the issue of such feffee is fayinge, the land so geuen ought to retourne to the geuer or hys heire by fourme of the gyft expressed in the deede, though the issue (if any were) had died: yet by the deede & feoffement of them (to whom land was so geuen vpon condition) the donors haue heretofore been barred of their reuerdyon; which was direct by repugnant to the fourme of the gift, wherefore our Soueraigne Lord the kynge perceyuing how necessary and expedient it should bee to prouyde remedy in the aforesaid cases hath ordayned, that the kynges

Neither shall the second husband of any such woman frõhencefoorth haue any thinge in the land so geuen vpon condition after the death of hys wyfe by the lawe of England, nor the issue of the second husband and wyfe, shall succede in the inheritaunce, but immediatly after the death of the husbãd and wyfe (to whom the land was so geuen) it shall retourne to their issue, or to the geuer, or his heire, as beefore is sayed. thereof by way of sale: that then he or they shall pay tithes for the same after such rate of his rent as is herein first a bove specified.

Prouided also that if any such gardeines now being, of the quantitie of halfe an acre or more, bee hereafter by fraud or couine deuided into any lesse quantitie or quātities, then to pay tithe according to the rate aboue said.

Prouided alway that this decree shall not extend to ẏ houses of great men or noble men or noble womē, kept in their owne handes, & not letten for any rent which in time past hath paid no tithes, so long as they shall so continue vnlet-temor to any halles of crafftes or com panies, so long as they be kept vnlettē, so that ẏ same halles in tyme past haue not vsed to pay any tithes.

Prouided alwaies and it is decreed, that this present order and decree, shall not in any wise extend to bind or charge any sheds, stables, cellers, timber par-des, ne tenter yardes, which were neuer parcell of any dwelling house, ne ap pertaining or belonging to any dwelling house, ne haue accustomed to pay a ny tithes: but that the said citizens and inhabitātes shal thereof be quite of pay ment of any tithes, as it hath ben vsed & accustomed.

Prouided also and it is decreed, that where lesse summe then after xvi. pence halfepeny in ẏ r.s. rent, or lesse summe then two shillinges nyne pence in the rr.s. rēt, hath bē accustomed to be paied for tithes: ẏ then in such places the said citizēs & inhabitāts shal pay but onely after such rate as hath bē accustomed.

Item it is also decreed, that if any variaunce controuersie or strife, do or shal hereafter arise in the said citie for none payment of any tithes: or if any varyaunce or doubt arise vpō the true know ledge or diuisiō of any rent or tithes vō in the liberties of the said citie or of any extent or assessement thereof, or if any doubt arise vpon any other thing conte ned within this decree: that then vpon complaint made by the partie greeued to the Maior of the citie of London for the time being, the said Maior by the ad-uice of counsaile, shall call the said parties before him and make a finall end in the same with costes to be awarded by the discretion of the said maior & hys assistents according to the intent & pur port of this present decree.

And if ẏ said Maior make not an end thereof vōn two monethes after complaint to him made, or if any of the said parties find them selues greeued: That then ẏ Lord Chauncellour of England for the time being, vpon complaint to him made vōn three moneths thē next following, shal make an end in ẏ same with such costes to be awarded as shal bet hought conuenient, according to thin-tent & purport of this said decree.

Prouided alwaies, that if any person or persons take any tenement for a lesse rent then it was accustomed to be letten for, by reason of any great ruin or decay, brenning, or such like occasions or misfortunes: That then such person or persones, his executors or assignes, shall pay tithes onely after the rate of the rent reserued in his or their lease, & none otherwise as long as ỳ same lease shall endure.

10 ¶ Not only the said actes made in ỳ said xxvii. & xxxii. yeres of ỳ raigne of the said late king Henry the eight (before. 5. & 8.) concerning true payment of tithes, & euery article & branch therin conteined, shall abide & stand in their full strength and vertue: but also be it &c. ỳ euery of the kinges subiectes, shall from hence forth truely & wholly without fraud or guile, deuide, set out, yelde and pay all maner of their predial tithes in their proper kind as they rise and happen, in such maner and forme as hath ben of right yelded and paied within xl. yeres next before the making of this act or of right or custome ought to haue bē paied. And ỳ no person shal from hence forth take or carie away any such or like tithes which haue bē yelded or paid within ỳ said xl. yeres, or of right ought to haue ben paied in the place or places tithable in the same, before he hath truly deuided or set forth for ỳ tithe thereof the tenth part of the same, or other wyse agreed for the same tithes with the person, vicars, or other owner proprietarie or farmour of the same tithes vnder the pain of forfaiture of treble value of the tithes so taken or caried away. And be it &c. that at all times whensoeuer & as often as ỳ said predial tithes shal be due at the tithing time of ỳ same, it to be lawful to euery party to whom any of the said tithes ought to be paied or his deputy or seruant, to viewe & see their said tithes, to be iustly and truelie set forth & seuered from ỳ nine parts, & ỳ same quietly to take and carie away. And if any person carie away his corne or hay, or his other predial tithes, before the tithe thereof be sett forth, or willingly withdraw hys tithes of the same, or of such other thinges whereof predial tithes ought to be paied, or doe stoppe or lett the parson vicar, proprietary owner or other their deputies or farmoures, to view, take, & carry away their tithes, as is aboue said, by reason whereof the said tithe or tenth is lost impaired or hurt, that thē vpon due proofe thereof made, before the spiritual iudge, or any other iudge to whom heretofore he might haue made complaint, the party so carrying away, withdrawing, letting, or stopping, shal pay the double value of ỳ tenth or tithe so taken, lost, withdrawen, or caryed away, ouer & besides the costes, charges, & expences of ỳ suit in the same, ỳ same to be recouered before the ecclesiastical iudge according to ỳ kinges ecclesiasticall lawes. And be it &c. that al & euery person which hath or shal haue any beastes or other cattel tithable, going, feeding, or depasturing in any waste or common ground where of ỳ parish is not certainlie knowne, shall pay their tithes for ỳ increase of the said cattel so going in ỳ said waste, or common to the person, vicar, proprietarie portionarie, owner, or other their farmers or deputies of the parish, hamlett, towne or other place where ỳ owner of ỳ sayd cattell inhabiteth or dwelleth. Prouided alwaies & be it &c. ỳ no person shalbee sued or otherwise cōpelled to yelde, geue or pay any maner of tithes for any manours, lands, tenements, or hereditamēts, which by ỳ lawes & statuts of this Realme, or by any priuiledge or prescription, are not chargeable with ỳ payment of any such tithes, or that bee discharged by any compositiō real. Prouided alwaies & be it &c. that al such barren heath or waste ground, other thē such as be discharged for ỳ paiment of tithes by act of parliament, which before this time haue lien barrē, and paid no tithes by reaso of the same barrennesse, & now be or hereafter shalbe emproued & conuerted

Prouided alwaies and bee it &c. that all and euery person and persones which by the lawes or customes of this Realme, ought to make or pay their offrings, shal yerely from hencefoorth well and truely content and pay his or their offringes to the person vicar, proprietary, or their deputies, or their fermers of the parish or parishes where it shal fortune or happen him or them to dwel or abide. And that at such fower offring days as at any time here tofore within the space of fower yeres last past, hath ben vsed and accustomed for the payment of the same and in default therof to pay for their said offrigs at Easter then next following. Prouided also & be it &c. that this act or any thing therein contained shal not extend to any parish which standes vpon and towards the Sea coastes, the commodities and occupying wherof consisteth chiefely in fishing, & haue by reason ther of vsed to satisfie their tithes by fish, but that all & euery such parysh & parishes shal hereafter pay their tithes according to the lawdable customes as they haue heretofore of auncient time within this xl. yeres vsed and accustomed, and shall pay their offringes as is aforesaid. Prouided alwaies & be it &c. that this act or any thing therein contained shal not extend in any wise to the inhabitauntes of the citie of London & Cauterbury & the suburbes of the same, ne to any other Towne or place that hath vsed to pay their tithes by their houses, otherwyse then they ought or should haue done before the making of this act, any thing contained in this act to the contrary in any wise not withstanding. And be it &c. that if any person do subtract or withdraw any maner of tithes oblacions, profits commodities, or other duties before mencioned, or any part of the contrarie to the true meanig of this act, or of any other act heretofore made, that then the party so subtracting or withdrawing the same, may or shalbe conuented & sued in the kings eccleſi asticall court by the partie from whom the same shalbe subtracted or withdra-

And it is to understand that in the cases aboue rehearsed it ought to be iudged treason which extendeth to our soueraigne lord the kinge and his royall maiestie. And of such treason the forfaiture of ỳ eschetes partayneth to our Soueraigne lord aswell of the landes and tenementes holden of other as of him selfe. And moreouer there is an other manner of treason, that is to say when a seruaunt sleeth hys master or a wife her husband, or when a manne seculer or religious sleeth his prelate to whom hee oweth faith and obedience. And of such treason the eschets ought to pertayne to euery lord of his owne fee. And bycause that many other like cases of treason may happen in tyme to come which a man can not thynke nor delay at this present time: It is accorded that if anie other case supposed treason which is not aboue specified do happen before any Justices, the Justices shall tary wout any going to iudgment of the treason till ỳ case bee shewed and declared beefore the king and hys parliament whether it ought to be iudged treason or felony. And if percase any man of this Realme ryde armed couertly or secretly with men of armes agaynst any other to slee him or robbe him, or to take him or retaine till hee hath made fine or raunsome or to haue his deliueraunce, it is not ỳ mind of the kinge nor his Counsayle that in such case it shalbee iudged treason, but shallbee iudged felony or trespas according to the lawes of the land of old time vsed, & according as ỳ case requireth. And if in such case or other like, before this time any iustices haue iudged treason, and for this cause the lands and tenementes haue commen vnto the kinges handes as forfayt, the chiefe Lordes of the fee shall haue the eschеates of the tenementes holden of thē whether that the same tenemētes bee in the kynges handes or in others by gift or in other manner. Saueynge alwaies to our Soueraigne Lord the king the yeare & waste, and the forfaytures of cattels, which pertaine to him in the cases aboue named. And that writtes of Scire facias be graunted in such case against the land tenāts without other originall, and without allowinge any protection in the sayd suit. This act is continued. An. 28. H. 8. ca. 6. & an. 31. H. 8. c. 7. & an. 33. H. 8. ca. 17. And after. An. 1. Ed. 6. cap. 3. it was repealed by generall wordes. And after An. 3. E. 6. ca. 16. it was reuiued & made perpetuall. And after An. 2. & 3. P. & M. cap. 5. it is confirmed.

3 ¶ Anno. 27. H. 8. capitulo. 25. an act was made for punishmẽt of vacabondes, and relefe of the poore, and for collections for them, to endure to the laste day of the next parlement, and then it expired.

4 ¶ An. 1. E. 6. ca. 3. an act was made for punishment of vacabondes and relefe of the poore and impotent persons. And by that statute all statutes before made for the punishment of vacabondes and sturdie beggers, and all articles comprised in the same were repealed. And after. an. 3. E. 6. ca. 16. this act of E. 6. ca. 3. was repealed as appereth nert following.

5 ¶ The statute made in the firste yeare of the kings highnes most noble raigne (ca. 3. before. 4.) concerning ydle persons and vacabonds in certaine cases to bee made slaues & so forth. And all and euery artycle, matter, prouiso, braunch and sentence therin conteined shalbee from hence forth vtterly repealed, made frustrate, voide, and of none effect.

And that the statut concerning how aged and impotent persons should bee ordered for theyr better relefe, & how vacabonds and strong beggers should be punyshed, made in ỳ xxii. yere of the late king of famous memory king H. the eight (ca. 12. before 2.) & euery matter, article, prouiso, branch & sentence therein contained, to bee from hence forth reuiued, made good, & stand in ful strength and vertue, & shal continue & remaine a perfect act of parliament for euer. And bee it &c. that all Justices of peace and euery of them within the limits of their commissyõ, & the maiors sherifs, Bailifes, and other officers, in their seuerall rules and offices, shall within their seuerall limittes assemble together, & make their seuerall diuision according to ỳ purport & effect of thys act, at the nert generall quarter session of the peace to be holden after the feast of Easter nert to come, for the due, spedy and diligent execution of the same act. And that if any such aged or impotent personne after the feast of Easter nert to come, shall offend contrary to this statut, that thẽ the same offendour shalbe vsed and punished as in ỳ same estatut of ỳ xxii. of king Henry ỳ eight is prouided. And that before ỳ feast of Easter no punishement shalbe putt in execution against any such impotent lame and aged person, but onely by the discretion of the nert Justyce of peace of the same shere, where such offender shalbe apprehended, any thing in ỳ said act to the contrarye notwithstanding. And for the auoyding of ỳ ydle loytering of common laborers of husbãdry within this Realme: Bee it &c. that such common laborers being persons able in body, vsing loytering and refusyng to worke for such reasonable wages as is most commõly gẽn in ỳ parties where such persons shal dwell, shalbe for euery such times as hee or they refuse to labour, hauing reasonable wages as is aforesaied, adiudged vacabonds & shalbe punished as strong and mighty vacabondes in such Kinge 13 ¶Our soueraigne lord the king shal haue the warde of all the landes of such as hold of him in chiefe by knightes seruyce, whereof the tenauntes were seised in their demesne as of fee, at the day of their death (of whom soeuer they hold else by like seruice, so that they held of auncient time any land of the Crowne) vntill the heyre come to his lawfull age, except the fees of the Archbishop of Caunterbury, the Bishop of Durham, betwene Tyne and Tese, fines of Earles and Barons in the marches, where the kings writts doe not lie, and whereof the said Archbishops, Bishops, Earles, and Barons ought to haue such wards, though they held of ỳ king in some other place. King Mariage 14 ¶Also the king shall haue the mariage of an heire being within age, and in his warde, whether the landes of such heires haue appertained to the Crowne of auncient continuance, or that it came by reason of Escheate, being in the kings handes, or that he had the mariage by reason of the wards of the Lords of such heyres, without any respect to ỳ prioritie of feoffemēt, al bee it they held of other. Prerogatiua regis capitulo, secundo Anno 17. Edwardi.2.

Woman 15 ¶If any woman (before the death of her auncestour that held of the king in chiefe) be maried before she be marigeable, thē ỳ king shal haue ỳ warde of the body of the same woman, vntill she be of age able to consent, & then she may chose, whether shee wil haue him to whō she was first maried, or him ỳ ỳ king wil offer her. Relefe 16 ¶It is to wete, ỳ where any relefe is geuen, there wardeship is incident, & contrary wise. And such as hold by serieātie to go wᵗ ỳ king in his hoste their warde & relefe are incident. And such as holde by petit serieantie, as to beare shield or speare in ỳ kings hoste, to beare or to cary, neither lyeth neyther warde mariage, nor relefe. Also a free sokemā shal not geue wardenor relefe but he shal double his rēt after ỳ death of his auncestour, according as hee hath vsed to pay, & shal not be vnmeasurably greued. Now somewhat is to bee said of the nature of hauinge wardes. There be two manner of writtes to haue wardes, one is where landes bee holden in knightes seruice, the other is where landes be holden in socage. The ward of land that is holden in knights seruice, belongeth to the chiefe lord, & mariage, which ought to be without disparagement, as the great chartour limitteth, vntill hee commeth to ỳ age of xxi. yeres. The warde of an heire ỳ holdeth in socage, if the inheritaūce discende of his mothers side, then it beelongeth to the next frend of ỳ fathers side, & contrary wise. And a writt to recouer ward, may be brought in three maners, one is whē a mā demaūdeth warde of the land and of the heire, & ỳ is in case when a man holdeth land of an other by knightes seruice, and ỳ tenaunt dieth, then may the chiefe lorde (if he be deforced) demaund ỳ warde of his land & heire, & shal haue both ward and mariage. An other maner is whē a man is enfeoffed of a rodd of land by one mā, & by an other, of an other rod, the second lord may not bring a writte of ward to recouer either ỳ land or the heire, for the ward belongeth to ỳ lord, of whō he was first infeffed. The iii. manner is, where a man hath land in his hāds by reason of a ward, and hath not ỳ heire, then he may bring a writte to demaund ỳ heire & not ỳ lande. An. 28.E.1.stat.of wards.
